

Class of 1992

What have you been up to?

1. You were a part of the last all male graduating class. What did it mean to you at the time and how is it still significant to you?

As the last all-male class at the school, we had a smaller number of students, the vast majority of whom were at St. Edmund's for eight years or more. More than its being single-sex, I believe it was its small size that made our class so special. After having larger classes in both high school and college, I realized what a unique opportunity it was to be part of such a small, tight-knit group at St. Edmund's. It was great to be able to get know everyone so well both in and out of the classroom and for our families to become acquainted over the years.

2. Where did your journey take you after leaving St. Edmund's Academy and how are you still connected?

After graduating from St. Edmund's I attended a boarding school and haven't spent too much time in Pittsburgh since. Still, as I moved to various cities I have tried to stay in touch with members of my St. Edmund's class in each location. It was always nice to get together with old friends, particularly classmates whom I had known for much of my life. Over the years I have reconnected with St. Edmund's classmates to watch Steelers games in both Boston and New York – always a good excuse to get together.

3. This class established this scholarship in memory of Alexander McAllister Feely and Bradley Laufman Henninger, two classmates from the Class of 1992. Tell us about their personalities and what this scholarship means to you.

Brad and Alex were both very thoughtful and kind individuals and it was a shock to lose them at such young ages. The scholarship is an excellent way to remember Brad and Alex, as it honors a student who demonstrates, among other qualities, "a genuine interest in the well-being of their fellow man in and out of St. Edmund's academy." Brad and Alex were very loyal and caring friends and classmates and this scholarship serves as a perfect way to honor their legacies.

4. What are your favorite memories of St. Edmund's Academy?

I remember our class's marathon floor hockey games in Coach Gathagan's afternoon gym class --- always a competitive and fun break from academics. I also have fond memories of the various games we played in fourth grade home room. In fact much of my current geographic knowledge is a product of Mr. Sciulli's creative efforts to get a group a rambunctious young boys to enjoy the learning process.

5. We understand that you still keep in touch as a class. We've noticed that each class has their own unique personality. Describe the Class of 1992's personality.

6. What advice would you like to give to the Class of 2008?
